

Śrī Rāmakṛṣṇa Suprabhātam (Sundays, Wednesdays, Fridays)

Having seen the decline of dharma all around, O Lord! you (voluntarily and) quickly took birth in a good brahmin family of a prosperous village known as Kamarpukur (in order to redeem dharma). O Lord, Sri Ramakrishna! A glorious dawn be unto thee!

O Lord Sri Ramakrishna! In your childhood you experienced samadhi when you saw a line of white cranes (flying in the sky) against the background of dark clouds. (Again) during the time of Sivaratri you experienced the bliss of union with the Lord Siva. A glorious dawn be unto thee.

O Lord Sri Ramakrishna! Having practised the various spiritual disciplines of our Sanatana-dharma as also of the various religions like Christianity etc., emanating from foreign countries, you came to the conclusion, by direct experience, that all of them lead to the same goal at the end. A glorious dawn be unto thee!

O the dark bee at the (dark) lotus feet of Mother Kali! You quickly realized that Sri Sarada Devi (your consort) and the Divine Mother of the whole universe are absolutely identical. O Lord Sri Ramakrishna! A glorious dawn be unto thee!

You, the Omniscient Lord, have taught Rakhal, Tarak, Hari, Narendra and other pure-minded souls like Sashibhusan the knowledge of the Self even here. O Lord Sri Ramakrishna! A glorious dawn be unto thee!

Ever tasting the bliss of samadhi, which is of the nature of self-knowledge, (ever) granting joy and peace to those who have taken refuge at thy (holy) feet, you are established here. O Lord Sri Ramakrishna! A glorious dawn be unto thee!

Having absorbed into your own body all the sins committed throughout their lives in various ways, by those who have taken refuge in you, you have (silently) put up with the suffering born out of this. O Lord Sri Ramakrishna! A glorious dawn be unto thee!

Thinking that, bowing down to your (holy) lotus feet in the early morning, will facilitate the destruction of sorrows wrought by samsara, (these devotees) full of devotion are waiting (at your door to have your darshan). O Lord Sri Ramakrishna! A glorious dawn be unto thee!

In order to sing thy nectar-like glories and also to get a glimpse of thy (holy) feet so that they become blessed, these people, O King among men! are assembled near thee. O Lord Sri Ramakrishna! A glorious dawn be unto thee!

O Sun of Knowledge! Giving the bliss of thy vision to (these devotees) who have surrendered themselves (at thy holy feet) please drive away all their darkness of delusion! Ocean of Devotion! Destroyer of all sorrows! O Lord Sri Ramakrishna! A glorious dawn be unto thee!

O Mother Sarada! Isvari! Lakshmi! Knowing fully well that unconditioned mercy is thy nature, even the hard-hearted evil ones worship thee, the Mother and protector of all the worlds! A glorious dawn be unto thee!

O (Vivekananda), whose glory was given by no less a person than Lord Viresa Himself! You are ever manifesting your greatness by waking up the sleeping people of Bharata through your thunderous words, enchanting them and encouraging and leading them in the path of their dharma! A glorious dawn be unto thee!

Gayatri mantra

We meditate on the glorious effulgence of the Supreme Being, out of whom all this creation - the earth, heavens and beyond — has come into being. May He illumine our minds and hearts and guide our energies.

I worship You, O sweet Lord of transcendental Vision. O giver of prosperity to all, may I be free from the bonds of death, like a ripe fruit dropping from the tree. May I never again forget my immortal nature.

May we know (realise) Ramakrishna the Supreme Self. For that, may we meditate upon the Supreme Self. May that Supreme Self impel us towards it.

Śrī Gaṇeśa Gayatri

Om. Let us meditate on Sri Ganesha, the lord with one tusk. May that great lord with curved elephant trunk inspire and illumine our mind and understanding.

Śrī Gaṇeśa Prātaḥ Smaraṇa Stotram

I bow down to Lord Ganesha in the morning, the friend and guide of helpless or orphaned devotees. He is the destroyer of all difficulties. His temples are decorated with red vermillion. He, whom the gods worship as their King.

I bow down to him who is cherished even by Brahma (the creator). O Lord, thou who grants the wishes of your devotees! Thou, the beautiful, who wear the king of serpents as your holy thread! Thou the son of Shiva and Parvati! Thou who constantly look after the welfare of devotees.

I bown down to Ganesha who protects those who surrender to him. O destroyer of poverty, sorrow and troubles of devotees! Thou the beautiful! Thou remover of false knowledge of your devotees! Bless us with the true knowledge. Thou who increase our energy, enthusiasm and grant power to devotees.

Śrī Gaṇeśa Stutiḥ

I meditate on the all-pervading, clad in white garment, resplendent like the Moon, the four-armed and the cheerful - faced to ward off all obstacles.

I bow to Lord Ganesha who has an elephant head, who is attended by the band of his followers, who eats his favorite wood-apple and rose-apple fruits, who is the son of Goddess Uma (Parvati), who is the cause of destruction of all sorrow. And I salute to his feet which are like lotus.

One who makes Parvati's face bloom like that of a lotus in the presence of the Sun, the one who is elephant-faced, the one who is single-tusked, the one who grants many wishes to his devotees, let us always meditate on him.

I bown down to the elephant headed one, whose uncle is Lord Vishnu, mother Parvati and father Lord Siva.

The Lord with the curved trunk and a mighty body, who has the magnificence of a million suns, I pray to you, oh Lord, to remove the obstacles from all the actions I intend to perform.
